If you're worried about being in the right place at the right time to see a volcano erupt, Sakurajima is the perfect volcano for you. It erupts on average three times a day. Don't expect to be able to get right up close or climb to the summit of any of its three peaks either. It's far too dangerous, so two kilometers away is the closest you can get. Which, considering how active it is, is probably quite close enough.

How to Make a Volcano Erupt (with Pictures) wikiHow

To make a volcano erupt, start by securing a bottle of soda to a cardboard tray. Then, spray insulating foam around the soda bottle to create a mountain, and wait for it to harden. Next, paint the dried insulating foam so it looks like a volcano, and attach a paper cylinder to the very top. Finally, drop a few Mentos into the paper cylinder so they fall into the bottle of soda, and wait for the eruption.
